Enjoy Music in Your Home

:: :: ::

There is no home like the one in which the sweet strains of music are heard.

Music soothes and elevates.

Music has an ennobling influence on the lives of growing children.

The frets and worries of life lose their poignancy as we listen to music.

Music appeals to everyone. Yet how few attain to proficiency in its execution!

Fortunately, in these days, music is within the reach of every home through the Phonograph.

The world's most famous singers and instrumentalists are yours to command if you possess a PATHEPHONE.

PATHEPHONES produce perfectly the artistry of the singer or player—nothing is lost.

Call and hear them demonstrated in our Musical Parlors, Third Floor.

PATHEPHONES can be bought on the Easy Payment plan. Terms: 1-4 cash, balance 5 equal instalments, which gives you 6 months to pay for the machine.

O CANADA !

O Canada! Our Fathers' land of old,
Thy brow is crowned with leaves of red and gold.
Beneath the shade of the Holy Cross,
Thy children own their birth,
No stains their glorious annals gloss,
Since valour shields thy hearth.
Almighty God! On Thee we call;
Defend our rights, fend this nation's thrall.
Defend our rights, fend this nation's thrall.

Altar and throne command our sacred love,
And mankind to us shall ever brothers prove,
O King of Kings, with Thy mighty breath,
All our sons do Thou inspire,
May no craven terror of life or death,
E'er damp the patriot's fire.
Our mighty call loudly shall ring,
As in days of old, "For Christ and the King!"
As in days of old, "For Christ and the King!"

Hiawatha's Wedding Feast

You shall hear how Pau-Puk-Keewis,
How the handsome Yenadizze.
Danced at Hiawatha's wedding;
How the gentle Chibiabos,
He the sweetest of musicians,
Sang his songs of love and longing;
How Iagoo, the great boaster,
He the marvellous storyteller,
Told his tales of strange adventure,
That the feast might be more joyous,
That the time might pass more gaily,
And the guests be more contented.

Sumptuous was the feast Nokomis
Made at Hiawatha's wedding.
All the bowls were made of bass-wood,
White and polished very smoothly,
All the spoons of horn of bison,
Black and polished very smoothly.

She had sent through all the village
Messengers with wands of willow,
As a sign of invitation,
As a token of the feasting;
And the wedding-guests assembled,
Clad in all their richest raiment,
Robes of fur and belts of wampum,
Splendid with their paint and plumage,
Beautiful with beads and tassels.

An Open Letter

:: :: ::

While in search of more comfort for your home, have you looked carefully into the advantages of the use of electricity? Are you aware that by the electrical method—

You can cook better and cleaner meals with no surplus heat, no dust, soot, ashes, or smoke, with less labor and attention and by no greater expense than by any other method;

You can do the family washing without the real hard labor required with hand operated washers and wringers;

The ironing can be done in the coolest room in the house, or in a shady porch or verandah and with less exertion and no time lost waiting for irons to heat.

Electric fans can be used to ventilate the house and produce cool, refreshing breezes wherever required.

Electricity will in many other ways reduce the labor and increase the comforts of the home. It gives real service.

Think it over. You can examine these appliances at all reliable electrical dealers.

Yours for service,

City Electric Light Department.

First they ate the sturgeon, Nahma,
And the pike, the Maskenozha,
Caught and cooked by old Nokomis,
Then on pemmican they feasted,
Pemmican and buffalo marrow,
Haunch of deer and hump of bison,
Yellow cakes of the Mondamin,
And the wild rice of the river.

But the gracious Hiawatha,
And the lovely Laughing Water,
And the careful old Nokomis,
Tasted not the food before them,
Only waited on the others,
Only served their guests in silence.

And when all the guests had finished,
Old Nokomis, brisk and busy,
From an ample pouch of otter,
Filled the red stone pipes for smoking,
With tobacco from the South-land,
Mixed with bark of the red willow,
And with herbs and leaves of fragrance.

Then she said, "O Pau-Puk-Keewis,
Dance for us your merry dances,
Dance the Beggar's Dance to please us;
That the feast may be more joyous,
That the time may pass more gaily,
And our guests be more contented!"

Then the handsome Pau-Puk-Keewis,
He the idle Yenadizze,
He the merry mischief-maker,
Whom the people called the Storm-Fool,
Rose among the guests assembled.

Skilled was he in sports and pastimes,
In the merry dance of snow-shoes,
In the play of quoits and ball-play;
Skilled was he in games of hazard,
In all games of skill and hazard,
Pugasaing, the Bowl and Counters,
Koomtassoo, the Game of Plum-stones.

Though the warriors called him Faint-Heart,
Called him coward, Shaugodaya,
Idler, gambler, Yenadizze,
Little heeded he their jesting,
Little cared he for their insults,
For the women and the maidens
Loved the handsome Pau-Puk-Keewis.

He was dressed in shirt of doe-skin,
White and soft, and fringed with ermine,
All inwrought with beads of wampum;
He was dressed in deer-skin leggings,
Fringed with hedgehog quills and ermine,
And in moccasins of buck-skin,
Thick with quills and beads embroidered.
On his head were plumes of swan's down,
On his heels were tails of foxes,

An Established Standard

For sixty-five years the Heintzman & Co. piano has been the established standard of high art in piano making. It is not merely for their beautiful and artistic cases that these instruments are renowned, but because of their fine and particularly sympathetic tone. It is because of the wonderful tone of the Heintzman & Co.

Art Piano Grand or Upright

that Tetrizzini and Ruffo chose it to sing 'to on their Canadian tour; that De Pachmann chose it for his Canadian concerts; that Nordica, Albani, Sembrich, and many other world-famous artists became enthusiastic in its praise.

The Heintzman tone is permanent—it is built right into the instrument—there for a lifetime.

In one hand a fan of feathers,
And a pipe was in the other.

Barred with streaks of red and yellow,
Streaks of blue and bright vermilion,
Shone the face of Pau-Puk-Keewis.
From his forehead fell his tresses,
Smooth and parted like a woman's,
Shining bright with oil, and plaited,
Hung with braids of scented grasses,
As among the guests assembled,
To the sound of flutes and singing,
To the sounds of drums and voices,
Rose the handsome Pau-Puk-Keewis,
And began his mystic dances.

First he danced a solemn measure,
Very slow in step and gesture,
In and out among the pine trees,
Through the shadows and the sunshine,
Treading softly like a panther,
Then more swiftly and still swifter,
Whirling, spinning round in circles,
Leaping o'er the guests assembled,
Eddying round and round the wigwam,
Till the leaves went whirling with him,
Till the dust and wind together
Swept in eddies round about him.

Then along the sandy margin
Of the lake, the Big-Sea-Water,
On he sped with frenzied gestures,
Stamped upon the sand, and tossed it
Wildly in the air around him;
Till the wind became a whirlwind,
Till the sand was blown and sifted
Like great snowdrifts o'er the landscape,
Heaping all the shores with Sand Dunes,
Sand Hills of the Nagow Wudjoo!

Thus the merry Pau-Puk-Keewis
Danced his Beggar's Dance to please them,
And, returning, sat down laughing
There among the guests assembled,
Sat and fanned himself serenely
With his fan of turkey-feathers.

Then they said to Chibiabos,
To the friend of Hiawatha,
To the sweetest of all singers,
To the best of all musicians,

And the gentle Chibiabos,
Sang in accents sweet and tender,
Sang in tones of deep emotion,
Songs of love and songs of longing,
Looking still at Hiawatha,
Looking at fair Laughing Water,
Sang he softly, sang in this wise:

"Onaway! Awake, beloved,
Thou the wild flower of the forest!
Thou the wild-bird of the prairie!
Thou with eyes so soft and fawn-like!

"If thou only lookest at me,
I am happy, I am happy,

"Sweet thy breath is as the fragrance
Of the wild-flowers in the morning,
As their fragrance is at evening,
In the Moon when leaves are falling.

"Does not all the blood within me
Leap to meet thee, leap to meet thee,
As the springs to meet the sunshine,
In the Moon when nights are brightest?

"Onaway, my heart sings to thee,
Sings with joy when thou are near me,
As the sighing, singing branches

In the pleasant Moon of Strawberries!
"When thou art not pleased, beloved,
Then my heart is sad and darkened,
As the shining river darkens
When the clouds drop shadows on it!
"When thou smilest, my beloved,
Then my troubled heart is brightened,
As in sunshine gleam the ripples
That the cold wind makes in rivers.
"Smiles the earth, and smile the waters,
Smile the cloudless skies above us,
But I lose the way of smiling,
When thou art art no longer near me!
"I myself, myself! behold me!
Blood of my beating heart, behold me!
O awake, awake, beloved!
Onaway! awake, beloved!"

Thus the gentle Chibiabos
Sang his song of love and longing;
And Iagoo, the great boaster,
He the marvellous storyteller,
He the friend of old Nokomis,
Jealous of the sweet musician,
Jealous of the applause they gave him,
Saw in all the eyes around him,
Saw in all their looks and gestures,
That the wedding-guests assembled
Longed to hear his pleasant stories,
His immeasurable falsehoods.

Very boastful was Iagoo:
Never heard he an adventure
But himself had made a greater;
Never any deed of daring
But himself had done a bolder;
Never any marvellous story
But himself could tell a stranger.
Would you listen to his boasting,
Would you only give him credence,
No one ever shot an arrow
Half so far and high as he had;
Ever caught so many fishes,
Ever killed so many reindeer,
Ever trapped so many beaver!

None could run so fast as he could,
None could dive so deep as he could,
None could swim so far as he could;
None had made so many journeys,
None had seen so many wonders,
As this wonderful Iagoo,
As this marvellous storyteller!

Thus his name became a by-word
And a jest among the people!
And whene'er a boastful hunter
Praised his own address too highly,
Or a warrior, home returning,
Talked too much of his achievements,
All his hearers cried, "Iagoo!
Here's Iagoo come among us!"

EDMONTON, ALTA.

He it was who carved the cradle
Of the little Hiawatha,
Carved its framework out of linden,
Bound it strong with reindeer's sinews;
He it was who taught him later
How to make his bows and arrows,
How to make the bows of ash-tree,
And the arrows of the oak-tree
So among the guests assembled
At my Hiawatha's wedding
Sat Iagoo, old and ugly,
Sat the marvellous storyteller.

And they said, "O good Iagoo,
Tell us now a tale of wonder,
Tell us of some strange adventure,
That the feast may be more joyous,
That the time may pass more gaily,
And our guests be more contented!"

And Iagoo answered straightway,
"You shall hear a tale of wonder,
You shall hear of strange adventures."
So he told the strange adventures
Of Osseo, the Magician,
From the Evening Star descended.

Such was Hiawatha's Wedding,
Thus the wedding-banquet ended,
And the wedding-guests departed,
Leaving Hiawatha happy
With the night and Minnehaha.

Golden opinions are showered on the Brunswick by its hearers everywhere, because, with its other many betterments, it has an exclusive new method of reproduction.

The method of reproduction for which the Brunswick Phonograph is famous includes two scientific features—the Ultona and the Tone Amplifier.

The Ultona

The Ultona—a new day creation—is a tone arm adaptable to playing any make of record. With but a slight turn of the hand it presents the correct weight, precise diaphragm and proper needle.

The Tone Amplifier

The Tone Amplifier is the vibrant all-wood throat of the Brunswick. It is oval in shape and made entirely of rare moulded Hollywood. No metal touches it. By it sound waves are projected into full, rounded tones—tones that are richer and more natural.

These are some of the reasons for Brunswick superiority.

Ask your dealer to have your favorite record played on a Brunswick, and compare the difference in tone.
